win by a big majority. Stand to your guns republicans, every ballot counts. The republican ticket is too healthy a body to need scratching.

Votens have no occasion to dig deep to find the good qualifications of the republican nominees. They stick out all over and can be seen a mile away.

THE Republican candidates are a taking lot. They take well with the people and will take office after the sixth of November next.

T. A. Jupp, the Republican nominee far recorder, is said to be a little short in the legs but he is a wonderful ranner and will get there all the same.

JACK SNYDER, the republican candidate for assessor and collector, is a hustler from away back. He can get through more work in an hour than his opponent can in a week.

THERE is nothing so effective as good were never so united as at present, and men making a good race in a good cause, that the prospects for a excepting victory such as the Republican nominees are at the pells never more gattering.
